June 15th, 2006 – Vancouver, BC – Quizam Media Corporation (“Quizam” or “the Company”) is pleased to announce George Jay Elementary School has signed an agreement to use Quizam to enable pupils to develop their maximum intellectual potential.

The ninety-five year old school built in the popular Edwardian style of brick and concrete was the last of the ‘grand scale’ schools. From the days of the first principal, Mr. H.B. MacLean known for, "The MacLean Method of Handwriting" to the school's present for taking leadership in creating a learning environment where the community plays an integral part in the development of each and every student, George Jay Elementary School embraces the future.

The Mission Statement of George Jay states:

“George Jay School, in partnership with the parents, will work to enable the pupils to develop their maximum intellectual potential to foster in each pupil a sense of self-worth, the worth of fellow pupils, and to develop a sense of social responsibility. This will be done in an environment that is safe, flexible, caring and responsive to individual needs.”

Robert Warren, Vice Principal of George Jay Elementary and author of the book, ‘The George Jay School 1909’, states, “Quizam looks very impressive – its motivating, fun and interesting!”

Irene Dual, Director of Business Development, states, “there’s no greater gift than when a parent and child spend the evening together laughing and learning something new. Quizam brings back the joy to learning!”
