April 25th, 2007 – Vancouver, BC – Quizam Media Corporation (“Quizam” or “the Company”) Quizam Media Corporation is pleased to announce the appointment of David Hottenstein, CEO of Educational Impact, and Author of Intensive Scheduling: Restructuring America's Secondary Schools Through Time Management. Mr. Hottenstein’s extensive experience producing online professional development programs for educators across the state and nation have gained him considerable attention and acclaim; he will be a valuable resource for Quizam penetrating the US market.

Mr. Hottenstein is the recipient of many prestigious awards. In 1994 he received the Pennsylvania Principal of the Year award, he was one of seven principals nationwide named to the Carnegie Foundation/NASSP National Commission on High School Restructuring. Mr. Hottenstein received the Delaware Valley ASCD “Excellence in Education Award” in 1995 and in 1996 the Milken Family Foundation National Educators Award of $25,000. In addition, Mr. Hottenstein was appointed to help plan the “America Goes Back to School” initiative sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education and co-chaired by Tipper Gore, Secretary of Education Riley, and Bo Jackson during the Clinton White House years.

When Mr. Hottenstein was the Principal of Hatboro-Horsham High School his leadership captured national recognition and won the Blue Ribbon School Award. Redbook Magazine’s named Hatboro-Horsham as one of the “Top 150 America’s Best Schools” in the “overall excellence” category. These honours led to a nationally televised interview on “Good Morning America” which brought a great deal of pride to his school and community.
